The National Neurotrauma Society is committed to the promotion of neurotrauma research by enhancing communications, providing a forum, and increasing support on the national and international level.

The National Neurotrauma Society seeks to accelerate research that will provide answers for clinicians and ultimately improve the treatments available to patients. The National Neurotrauma Society will continue to promote excellence in the field by providing opportunities for scientists, establishing standards in both basic and clinical research, encouraging and supporting research, and promoting liaisons with other organizations that influence the care and cure of neurotrauma victims.

MEMBERSHIP

Qualified candidates are encouraged to join the National Neurotrauma Society. Annual Membership runs from January 01 thru December 31. As a Member of NNS, you will receive an online subscription to the Journal of Neurotrauma, updates on the activities of the Society and important meetings in the field, eligibility for NNS awards, opportunity to serve on committees and Council and more.

We invite you to visit our website to become a member today!

INVITATION TO ATTEND

Dear Exhibitors and Sponsors,

On the behalf of the National Neurotrauma Society, it is with great enthusiasm that I invite you to attend the 37th Annual National Neurotrauma Symposium, Neurotrauma 2019, to be held at the Wyndham Grand Pittsburgh Downtown hotel in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania on June 29-July 3, 2019.

Since its inception, this symposium has brought together scientists, clinicians, and health-care providers who are dedicated to the study of neurotrauma and to translating knowledge generated by research into improved patient care. Join your colleagues and initiate new collaborations at the premier forum for information related to traumatic brain injury and spinal cord injury in the exciting “City of Bridges”, Pittsburgh, PA. The theme for Neurotrauma 2019 is “Bridging Gaps in Understanding the Neurobiology and Neurotechnology of Function after Neurotrauma”.

As in previous years, I am honored to announce that Neurotrauma 2019 will be co-hosted by the National Neurotrauma Society and the American Association Neurological Surgeons/CNS Joint Section on Neurotrauma and Critical Care. This combination of expertise allows for presentations that integrate state-of-the-art clinical, translational, and basic science data. Share with others what function means to you and hear about cutting edge approaches to assessing and improving function after neurotrauma.

The Scientific Program Committee has put together an exciting symposium comprised of plenary and break-out sessions in which the leading experts will share their up-to-date thoughts, research, and findings on neurotrauma. A central focus of Neurotrauma 2019 will be the highly interactive poster sessions which will stimulate scholarly discussions on the mechanisms, assessments, and treatments for improving function after neurotrauma.

Innovative workshops will cover pertinent topics such as writing effective publications and grants, state-of-the-art patient care, conducting rigorous research, improving scientific communication, and use of cutting-edge technologies to accelerate discovery at both the bench and the bedside. CME credits will be provided for the meeting.

Several unique opportunities for collaboration and mentoring are planned including a Welcome Reception on Sunday evening, Lunch & Learn workshops, and a Tuesday evening dinner at the Heinz History Center.

We have reserved a large block of rooms at the Wyndham Grand Pittsburgh Downtown hotel at a reasonable rate for attendees. Amenities include complimentary WiFi, 24/7 fitness center, business center, on site restaurant, room service, swimming pool and jacuzzi.

Getting to Neurotrauma 2019 will be easy, as a flight to Pittsburgh International Airport takes 90 minutes or less for 70 percent of North America’s population. Attendees from nine states, Washington DC, and parts of Canada can drive to Pittsburgh in fewer than 6 hours. Getting from the airport to Downtown Pittsburgh is a cinch, with convenient shuttles as well as affordable, regular bus service.

Neurotrauma 2019 promises to provide innovative opportunities for learning, mentoring, and collaboration for all attendees. Every attendee from a trainee newly entering the field to the seasoned neurotrauma professionals will discover new information in a scenic and stimulating venue.

I look forward to seeing you in Pittsburgh!

Sincerely,

Amy Wagner, MD
President, National Neurotrauma Society

ABOUT PITTSBURGH

Not only are its sports teams a mighty force to be reckoned with, but the city has overcome adversity in a big way. Pittsburgh's affordable standard of living, top-notch health care facilities and cultural attractions combine to make it America's "Most Livable City."

Once a center for heavy industry, today Pittsburgh's skyline has been transformed. Riverfronts are thoughtfully developed, utilized for recreation now more than ever. Businesses look to the environment as an asset, not a challenge. And, best of all, "green" has replaced "smoky" for good.

Pittsburgh is a vibrant, mid-sized city that has the feel of a small town. Its approachability can be seen on the faces of its energetic, hard-working and proud people.

A CITY IN TRANSFORMATION

Bike, walk or rollerblade miles of riverfront trails and soak in fantastic urban views. Wrapped in rivers, intertwined with trails and packed with parks, it is a green and outdoor city in close contact with its surrounding countryside.

Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens opened its Center for Sustainable Landscapes, one of the world's first certified living buildings, a model of sustainability for architects, scientists, planners and anyone interested in living greener.

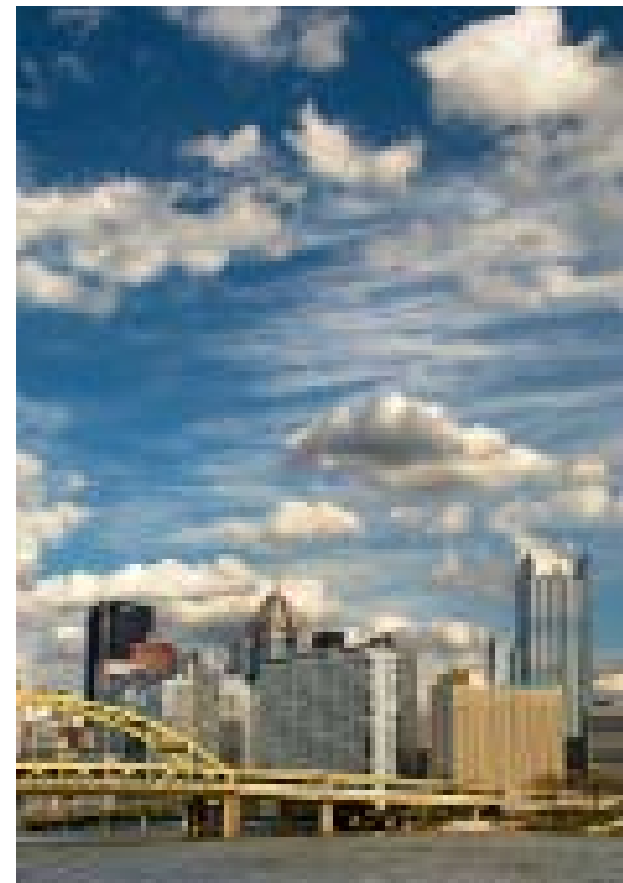

In the eyes of many of its visitors, Pittsburgh offers a surprising and unexpected experience, with natural beauty, unique terrain and diverse offerings at every turn.

Pittsburgh's history and blue collar image makes the city and its inhabitants approachable and unpretentious.

Take to the streets of Pittsburgh and explore this vibrant city. There are free, self-guided and guided architectural and public art walking tours of the city's many neighborhoods.

Make the time to travel to Pittsburgh's Countryside, eight counties located between 30-60 minutes of downtown Pittsburgh, and offering everything from whitewater rafting to sailing to country festivals to hiking and more. Visit Frank Lloyd Wright's most famous home, Falling Water, only 40 miles from downtown. Enjoy the slower pace and beautiful landscape of the countryside.
